

Why on earth would you want to change this law? I expect you to answer that question. It is not broke so do not try to fix it. I was getting extremely tired of having to get up during supper, in the middle of the few quality minutes I get to spend with my children, during quiet time with my wife, in the early morning and late at night (sometimes after the family had gone to bed) answering phone calls prior to this law. It is just fine the way it is. Leave it alone.

Sincerely,
Terry D. Choate Jr.
